IT'S OFFICIAL! WHITE PARENTS are allowed to move their children from schools with a high proportion of Blacks to predominantly White schools. Equally Asian parents are allowed to send their children to Hindu or Moslem schools, Black children can go to Rastafarian schools.

In Cleveland in North East England Asian parents have already started to move their children away from White schools. Ali and Sharif Busnena were among the first, moving from a White-dominated school, Thorntree Infants to one with a high intake of Moslems - Breckon Hill School.

In the same area Jennifer Carner transferred her daughter Katrice after she had come home reciting Punjabi nursery rhymes.

The Tories who enacted the 1980 Education Act, which allows this, have been horrified by this unexpected development. It never crossed their minds that this piece of legislation would allow parents to start to dismantle their ever so precious multiracial society.

All over Britain parents are now examining the possibility of moving their children to schools of predominantly one race make-up. It is not only the Tories who have been horrified by this type of action. Even the Commission for Racial Equality are embarrassed because it has been Asian parents who have been in the forefront of this campaign with their demand for 'traditional' Islamic education for their children.

Educationalists and teachers have been desperately trying to play down this highly emotive issue. They have been claiming that parents are only anxious about the cultural differences.

But these cultural differences are caused by the fact that the parents and children concerned are from different races.

Culture is simply the outward expression of race in the same way that sneezing is the outward expression of a cold. The two simply cannot be separated. These cultural problems are only caused because of the presence of large numbers of blacks in Britain.

The National Front is fully behind the actions of parents who are seeking to have their children taught in predominantly one race schools. We support white parents who want their children to attend predominantly white schools. We support Asian parents who want their children to attend their own Asian schools. After all, the children will need to learn about their own culture so that they will feel at home when they are returned to their own countries by a National Front government.

RUC GUARD IRA/ANC MEETING!

ON WEDNESDAY 4th APRIL 1990 the "Army Council", the supreme leadership of the Provisional IRA murder gang, met in the house of John Thompson, Valentia Place, Flying Horse Estate, Ardglass Road, Downpatrick, Co. Down.

Paddy Brannigan, head of the South Down provo gang and his son Peter played host to top IRA killers from Belfast, Londonderry and Dundalk. Guests of honour at the IRA's inner circle meeting were Satueto Sabblae and Tambo Karoo of the African National Congress, both from South Africa.

Lesser IRA fry Orlagh O'Kane from Castlewellan and Geraldine Taylor from Belfast's Twinbrook estate kept an eye through the lounge window on RUC E4 Intelligence officers and UDR British soldiers standing fuming outside watching the IRA leadership meet in front of them - forbidden by Margaret Thatcher and her Tory Government from lifting a finger to stop them.

A few days later, on April 9th, the Provoes laid on a little light entertainment for their Black friends. They tried to blow-up a UDR patrol near Downpatrick, videoing the attack for their guests to show the folks back home in Soweto.

The following Wednesday, April 11th, the ANC's Sabblae and Karoo waved goodbye to their IRA friends and crossed the border on the main Belfast-Dublin road at Killeen at ten past twelve in the afternoon. The next day their hire car was returned to its Dublin owners by an Indian aged about 50 with receding hair, wearing glasses and of medium height and build.

The British security forces watched this latest strand in the international web of terror being spun with interest. But watch is all the Iron Lady would let them do. After all, it would never do to offend Nelson Mandela's friends. Or the IRA, whom Tory Ulster Secretary Peter Brooke has promised an "imaginative" deal if they will please stop killing our people.

Pathetic, isn't it. And meanwhile from Cape Town to Crossmaglen, from the West Midlands to the Rand, the terrorist killings go on...

FRONT HERO OF FLAT BLAZE

SIMON ROBINS, a keen National Front member and activist with Exeter NF took on the mantle of hero last month when rescued people caught up in a fire in a flat in Teignmouth, Devon.

* HERO: Simon Robins

Simon who spotted the blaze shepherded a mother and daughter to safety and rescued a man who had become overcome by smoke. He then tackled the blaze with a fire extinguisher and a pillow protecting his mouth and nose from the fumes.

After the incident, Simon who was covered from head to foot in soot was personally thanked by Teignmouth Fire Chief for averting a disaster.

Deafening Silence?

POLLS SHOW that 84% of British people think that the country cannot absorb any more Indians and Pakistanis.

83% say no more West Indians and 60% would have no more immigrants from the European Community and Hong Kong.

Last year some 117,000 coloured immigrants settled in Britain.

Strange isn't it that there are huge demonstrations against the unpopular Poll Tax being foisted upon us but a deafening silence on unpopular coloured immigrants being foisted on us?

Of course, it's because anyone who passes an opinion on immigration is automatically branded a racist and lives in fear of the Race Relations Gestapo carting them off to prison.

* THE number of people seeking asylum in Britain has more than doubled. 5,105 applied in 1988 and 12,570 in 1989. This included more than 4,000 Turkish asylum seekers!

* 33 Chinese immigrants went missing in Britain last month. They were due to be deported but gave immigration officers the slip.

* LIVERPOOL is to take 100 Vietnamese Boat People from a Hong Kong detention centre and give them houses in the City.

* SOMALI families arriving in Britain are facing a problem! Because their families tend to have ten or more individuals local council are having difficulty in finding houses big enough for them.

Fortunately for the Somalis, Wirral Council is making a number of suitable houses available.

Women Travel in Fear

SIXTEEN WOMEN were raped on Britain's trains last year. 300 were subjected to an indecent assault and there were more than 400 indecent exposures.

Staff cuts by BR are putting British women at risk with many stations unmanned and trains with just a driver.

Britain must invest in its railway system. Passengers must be attracted, not frightened off!

And They're Teaching our Kids!

ELEVEN OUT of twelve applicants for a headteacher's job with Wiltshire County Council made spelling or punctuation mistakes on their job application forms.

CLAPHAM BOMBER HAD CONTRACT ON MARGARET THATCHER!

FLAG
Exclusive!

NICHOLAS MULLEN, the IRA terrorist sentenced to thirty years imprisonment on June 8th for running the Clapham bomb factory, was involved in a plot to kill British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher in Zimbabwe (Rhodesia) in spring 1989.

The FLAG can exclusively reveal that the day before the Clapham bomb factory was stumbled on by a would-be car thief, on December 20th 1988, Mullen had flown to Harare (Salisbury) with his girlfriend and illegitimate daughter, aged seven, to carry out the next stage in the IRA assassination plot.

Already, in October 1988, on an earlier visit, Mullen had paid $10,000 in Zimbabwe dollars to buy a house at 55, St. Andrew's Road, Hatfield, Harare, on the Prime Minister's planned route from the airport to the City Centre on her forthcoming visit.

A further $95,000 was paid to complete the sale through a shadowy local IRA middleman. Only the chance discovery of Mullen's other IRA base in Clapham, South London, which resulted in his being arrested when he flew into Heathrow on his return from Southern Africa in February 1989 prevented the IRA - or possibly their local allies in Marxist Zimbabwe dictator Robert Mugabe's ZAPU terrorist organisation - from murdering the British Prime Minister six weeks later as she visited Harare.

Mullen was chosen to set up the Zimbabwe connection for the Provoes after several years flitting in and out of the country, ostensibly "selling computer parts" but in fact helping cement links between the IRA and Black Marxists there which began in 1972. In February 1976, Thatcher's host Prime Minister "Comrade" Mugabe was himself a guest of Belfast IRA gang leader Seamus Twomey in Andersonstown, Belfast.

* THATCHER: Lucky she did not fall victim to her own inept security policy.

Mullen himself came from a Marxist background in English student politics. As President of the Student Union at Middlesex Polytechnic he earned notoriety when in 1974, two weeks after the IRA's Birmingham bombings had butchered 21 ordinary English folk in two pubs, he proposed a motion at the National Union of Students Conference in Margate supporting the IRA's terror campaign on the British mainland.

It was shortly afterward that Mullen, like who knows how many other student Reds, was recruited as a Provisional IRA sleeper. After a period as a petty criminal - he went to jail ten times - the IRA activated him in 1980 as a link man with their Rhodesian Black Communist allies in terror. It was by sheer chance that this link did not end with a British Prime Minister lying dead in the hot African sunshine, a victim of her own soft, weak and inept security policy against the IRA and its Black and Red allies.

* CAI'DEN: Young families walk through rubbish piled high in the street.

Clean Up Britain First!

BRITAIN IS to give £20 million to the Third World so that it can start to clean itself up.

Mrs Thatcher, in a speech to Common Market Ministers, pledged the money in the hope other European countries would follow Britain's example.

Mrs Thatcher ought to look closer to home. Before she starts giving money to the Third World she ought to tidy Britain up before our country starts looking like the Third World!

Spinning a Yarn Against British Exports

WHILE FOREIGN yarn coming into Britain arrives free from duty or taxed at a very low rate, British yarn being exported abroad faces heavy duty barriers in most countries.

This unfair balance is typical of the problems faced by Britain's spinning industry. Yet despite such penalties quality British yarn is in demand.

The National Front demands a ban on foreign yarn coming into Britain. Inferior Third World goods have no place on the British market. British spinners must provide all the yarn required by Britain!

Cranky Council I

ATTACKS ON women travelling on buses have increased in Brighton.

Instead of providing funds for extra staff for the services to ensure the safety of all passengers, Brighton Council has introduced a women-only bus service!

Bit harsh on the law abiding OAP wanting to get into town when the bus refuses to pick him up because he's the wrong sex!

Cranky Council II

VANDALS IN Frome, Somerset have made a mess of the town by daubing graffiti everywhere.

Instead of declaring all out war on these vandals by introducing stiffer penalties and encouraging public vigilance, guess what the council has done?

They've built a special wall for the vandals to abuse in the vain hope that they will leave other parts of the town alone.

* NURSING HOMES: NF must pledge to look after our old folk.

Greed Before Nursing in Britain's Residential Homes

by Keith Wood

NO SOCIETY which calls itself civilised can fail to be disturbed by the miseries endured by old people in a minority of privately-run residential homes.

In Britain we rightly refuse to tolerate the mistreatment of children or animals. A brutal parent can be denied the right to keep a child. A dog-owner who abuses his/her pets can be banned for life from keeping them.

Why then should we be so lax in regulating the care of the old, of people who are vulnerable and often alone in the world?

Most private homes in Britain may be staffed with care and kindness.

But a recent report has revealed that there is another side to the story - homes run by the greedy and untrained in the interests only of easy profit. Homes which have become a hell because nobody cares and nobody checks.

This scandal must be stopped!

It will cost nothing to tighten up the law, or to insist that those who run private homes should be of suitable character. All it requires is the will to act.

That action should be immediate. For how many of us can rest easy in the knowledge that British old folk are being so cruelly exploited in the evening of their lives?

* FORESTRY PLANTATIONS: Destroyed 30% of Britain's natural woodland

Materialistic Greed is Killing off Our Ancient Woodland

BRITAIN'S UNIQUE ancient woodlands, some of them thousands of years old, are in danger, the Nature Conservancy Council warned on May 30th.

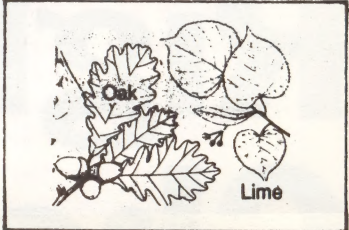

Mr. Timothy Hornby, Director-General of the Council, said it was an "absolute tragedy" that the Government had been unable to spare Oxleas Wood, threatened by the projected additional East London river crossing.

He also deplored the decision to drive a bypass through Birkham Wood, near Knaresborough, Yorkshire, supposedly protected as a Site of Special Scientific Interest, and to carve up ancient woodland in Northamptonshire in road widening schemes.

Mr. Peter Marren, author of an NCC book on ancient woods, said there were three ways in which Britain's ancient woodlands are unique in the world.

The first is the wet woodland flora, the product of our distinctive climate, with special species such as ferns and the distinctively British bluebell woodland, so lovely in Spring. Also our woods have more very old trees than those in Europe. Finally, lime stools, created in Saxon times and still alive after over a thousand years; Mr. Marren said these were "almost immortal".

In addition, our ancient woodlands are home to such creatures as nightingales, stag beetles and dormice.

The celebrated broadcaster Mr. Magnus Magnusson, Chairman of the NCC's Scottish Advisory Committee, added that in 1945 ancient woodlands had covered 1,235,000 acres, since which 10% had been ploughed up for agriculture, 30% turned into forestry plantations, and 50% simply neglected. Only 10% is being managed on traditional lines. Mr. Magnusson said "it behoves us to protect the woods as if they were set in stone".

Instead the Government, for all Thatcher's "green" posturings, allows them to be destroyed at the behest of the road and agri-business lobbies, whose lavish donations to Tory Party funds speak considerably louder in Government ears than the whisper of the wind in the branches of Britain's ancient oaks. Oaks seemingly doomed, like everything else, to be sacrificed on the altar of short-sighted materialistic greed.

* NF CHAIRMAN: Ian Anderson

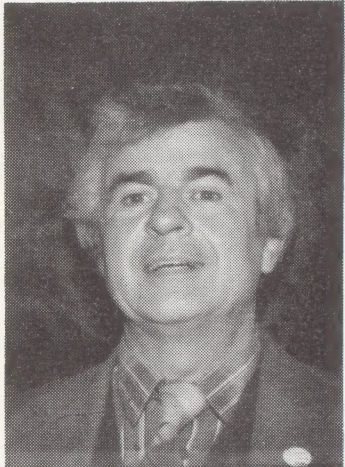

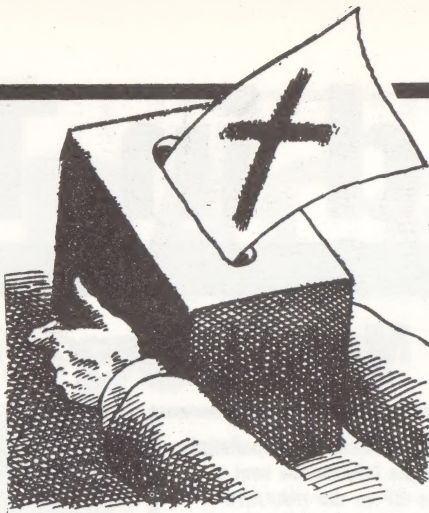

NF Chairman exactly right!

EIGHTEEN MONTHS ago NF Chairman, Ian Anderson predicted that the National Front would replace the SDP as Britain's fifth largest political party.

His prediction was greeted with hoots of derision from our opponents and not least by the SDP who responded by citing the NF's poor performances in elections.

Now Ian has been proved right. I wonder what his predictions are for the new Radical Party formed from the rump of the 2,000 members of the Communist Party of Great Britain?

Hart

PETER GERALD Hart, a building engineer consultant from Stratford, East London has been adopted by East London and Essex NF to contest Newham South at the General Election for the National Front.

Peter is the Chairman of the local NF and until recently was employed as a marine fitter at the Royal Docks, E16. He was educated Lancaster Polytechnic and Poplar Technical College where he was trained in mechanical and marine engineering.

Newham South was the jewel in the NF crown in the 1983 General Election, providing our best vote of 997, well over 3%.

London Nth. Fight Finchley

HORTICULTURIST: Chris Walford NF candidate in Finchley

CHRIS WALFORD, a thirty-four year-old horticulturalist from Wood Green, has been adopted by London North NF to contest the Prime Minister's seat, Finchley at the General Election.

The constituency includes an area of Barnet where the National Front has a considerable amount of support and which organised its own NF branch in the Seventies.

Election agent, Paul Nash, is pulling out all the stops in getting a respectable vote and believes a few people could be surprised with the depth of NF support in Finchley.

FIGHTING FUND

A FIGHTING Fund for the General Election has been launched by the National Directorate of the National Front.

Money donated to this fund will be placed in a deposit account and kept totally separate from any other monies raised by the NF.

The purpose of this fund is two-fold.

Firstly it will be used to produce a professional Election Broadcast for the General Election. The amateurish efforts of previous elections have no place in our business-like Party of today.

Secondly the fund will be used to ensure that any last minute hitches that may occur with regard to obtaining the 60 candidates can be ironed out immediately and do not hinder the NF's election efforts.

Please give generously to this fund and its running total together with the names of those who have donated will be published each month.

It's our Country - Let's Win it Back!

The People of Lichfield Acknowledge the Front

REMEMBERING: Tommy Hill lays a wreath of flowers at Lichfield Station.

ON SATURDAY 9th June NF members from Birmingham, Walsall and Cannock held a day of activity in Lichfield where a young soldier had been murdered by the IRA the week before.

A bouquet of flowers, from the West Midlands NF was laid by

LEAFLET: Cannock Organiser Charles Baugh leaflets Lichfield

Tommy Hill the son, of the West Midlands Regional Organiser, John Hill, outside Lichfield Station in memory of the soldier.

NF members then proceeded to Lichfield town centre where over 1,000 anti-IRA leaflets were handed out to shoppers and passers-by. The National Front were well received in the town with many shoppers acknowledging that the NF "were the only ones with the guts to stand up to the IRA".

A paper sale held in the shopping centre in the afternoon proved to be the best ever held in the town, and that's including the ones held during the Mid-Staffordshire by-election.

SURPRISE, SURPRISE! Vanguard makes it to the shelves of Walsall Library

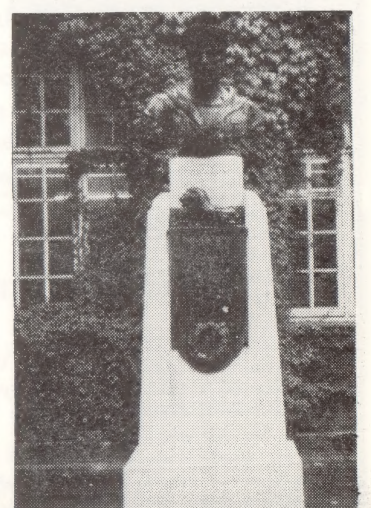

NF Wins Battle at Walsall Library

A STATUE of a great Walsall war hero, John Henry Carless (born Walsall 1896) who won the Victoria Cross for great bravery during World War I stands proudly outside Walsall Library.

I wonder what he would have thought about the local Labour Council's decision to ban The FLAG and Vanguard from the Library yet continue to display Socialist Worker and Marxism Today?

On Saturday 23rd June members of Walsall NF held a picket outside the Library in protest at the council's decision. The promised Labour Party counter-demonstration didn't materialise and the NF picket was given extensive local publicity in the media.

Incidentally Vanguard did finally make its way onto the Library shelves!

HERO: Walsall's John Carless

Election Seminar

A VERY successful National Front Election seminar took place at the Hylands Hotel, Coventry on Sunday 24th June.

The seminar, which discussed the all aspects of fighting elections from the basic form filling-in, to handling media interviews, is the first in a series for every region.

West Midlands NF branches expressed confidence that there would be at least eight Front candidates adopted for their area prior to the Annual Conference in September.

• The next Election Seminar is for South London. Details from 081-470-7350.

Battle to Keep Hero's Medals in Britain.

A BATTLE is under way to keep a World War II hero's medals in Britain.

Ace fighter pilot Ginger Lacey's collection could fetch £20,000 at auction with it highly likely that it goes to a foreign buyer.

A fund has been launched to try and buy the medals for an RAF museum. Ginger Lacey, who died last year, was decorated for shooting down a bomber that was attacking Buckingham Palace.

It's a scandal that the medals could go abroad. The Government should buy the medals themselves and put them on display so that British people can remember the sacrifice made to ensure a British future for the British people by men like Ginger Lacey.

Koran Spells it Out!

MOSQUE: Islam next to God

THE KORAN the 'Bible' of Muslims denies the existence of the Resurrection. It denies the sacrificial and redeeming death of Jesus on the Cross.

The Koran depicts Jesus as a mere prophet as Muhammed is considered by Islam to next to God.

This fundamental attack on Christianity goes unanswered by our clerics in the Church of England. So petrified are they of being called 'racist' that they are allowing such blasphemy to go unchallenged.

Is it just a matter of time before the Koran replaces the Bible?

Chickens Come Home to Roost for UDM

NEVER HAS anyone been proved to be so right as Arthur Scargill. During the Miners' Strike he made pronouncement after pronouncement concerning the future of Britain's coal mines if the strike was lost and every single one has been spot on.

* SCARGILL: Proved right!

Miners who couldn't stomach Arthur's demands for sacrifices left the NUM to join the UDM, a Tory Front set up to break the strike. Now they got their just deserts.

In June British Coal announced the closure of Sherwood Colliery, near Mansfield with the loss of 800 jobs. The pit was a UDM stronghold.

It was closed because cheap foreign coal has been brought into to Britain and made the pit economically redundant. And guess what - that was another of Arthur Scargill's predictions!

Gone Swiss

S & A LESME, an Oxfordshire-based company which makes bulk chocolate for cakes, biscuits, ice cream and confectionery has been bought up by Swiss chocolate giant Jacobs Suchard.

The traditional British-type of chocolate will be phased out as the company will be geared to produce chocolate for European tastes.

The buy-out was a blow to the British confectionery industry which two years ago saw Rowntree's taken over by another Swiss firm Nestle.

United in Terror!

The NF Provides More Evidence of the IRA /ANC Link

STEVE BRADY has collated all the information sent to the NF on the IRA/ANC links. His report makes grim reading for those misguided people who think the ANC IS THE ANSWER

IN ISSUE 29 of The FLAG, back in April 1989, we revealed exclusive information from key intelligence sources proving that the South African Black African National Congress, which now poses as a "respectable" organisation, was up to its neck in secret links with the IRA murder gang.

Since then The FLAG's investigative journalism team has not been idle. Now we can exclusively reveal even more details of links between "St. Nelson" Mandela's ANC and the murdering IRA.

Our story begins in the jungles of Angola in the late 1970's, where Rhodesian Intelligence discovered IRA bomb-making experts training ANC terrorists and terrorists of the anti-Rhodesian ZANU and ZAPU (the latter now running a one party Marxist dictatorship in "Zimbabwe": ZAPU leader Robert Mugabe, who met IRA leader Seamus Twomey in Andersonstown, Belfast in February 1976 is now a "respected Commonwealth statesman").

'TOOK OUT'

The IRA also used the ANC's office building in the Angolan capital, Luanda. In 1978 a two man and one woman IRA unit was active training terrorists at a camp at Viana, Angola. The IRA/ANC link involved top ANC executive member Ronnie Kasrils and London-based ANC terrorist "Wolfie" Kodesh. Kasrils visited Viana on several occasions to see how the Provo training was going.

Unlike Britain's security forces, those of Rhodesia were not ordered to stand idle in the face of IRA terror. In June, 1978, a top secret meeting took place in Salisbury's Milton Buildings.

Presented by Lt. Ian Dawson of the Rhodesian Light Infantry with documents and photo's proving the IRA was active in Angola, Superintendent Eddon of Rhodesian Special Branch and Brigadier Bernard of Combined Operations decided to take the necessary action. After an initial attempt to use pro-Rhodesian Irishmen to infiltrate the IRA in Angola came to nothing, the Rhodesian Special Air Service went in and did what their British SAS counterparts are itching to do - "took out" the IRA base.

Meanwhile the ANC and the Rhodesian Black murder gangs were repaying the Provos for their help. Evidence for this surfaced in Coalisland, Co. Tyrone, in 1978 when an East German MP44 assault rifle was discovered in IRA hands. British Intelligence traced the rifle by its markings to a batch supplied by Libya's Col. Gaddafi to the South-West African terrorist ANC ally, SWAPO, and clearly passed back halfway across the World to the Provos in Ulster.

TRAINED

Across Africa in Mozambique, in 1984, the IRA and ANC held a top-level meeting. This was revealed subsequently when Cuban-trained ANC terrorist Hugh Lugg defected to the side of civilization: he had been told of the meeting shortly afterwards in Cuba by his ANC Commander, "Comrade Peter" Patel. Also in 1984, on June 23rd, the South African Citizen newspaper quoted ex-ANC terrorist "John X" as saying that the ANC's strategy of terror was "deployed and supplied by the IRA and INLA".

Our tale now moves north to the desert at Sabaha, Libya, in April 1986, where ANC members and around 20 Provos were being trained by the Libyans in weapons and explosives, notably Semtex. The Libyan camp, in the north-western Gharyan district, was visited by two top ANC leaders, Thabo Mbeki and Johnny Makatini.

In Autumn 1986, ANC

London representative Solly Smith admitted the IRA were providing "specialised training" for the ANC. At the same time Horst Kleinschmidt, secretary of the ANC-front "International Defence and Aid Fund" and a close associate of top ANC terrorist Ronnie Kasrils, approached the IRA-front Sinn Fein to support IDAF's "Fund for South Africa Day", which Sinn Fein duly did. Kleinschmidt was living in Tufnell Park, North London, with Kasrils' ANC sidekicks Aziz Pahid and Stephanie Sachs.

Another Kasrils associate, Kadar Asmal is prominent in the Law faculty of Trinity College Dublin and combines vocal support for the IRA with often giving legal advice to the ANC in London and being Chairman of the Irish Anti-Apartheid Movement. He has recently been left a lot of money by a prominent American IRA supporter.

In July 1987 Kerry IRA man Henry Downing was sent to meet the ANC in South Africa, to arrange for ANC terrorists to come to the Irish Republic. Thanks to unofficial co-operation in the face of global terror between British and South African Intelligence organizations - co-operation officially forbidden by "Iron Lady" Thatcher's Tory Government - the South Africans were tipped off this IRA visitor was coming and sent him promptly back to the bogs.

• THE HAND OF TERRORISM: Whether it is Ulster or Africa the work of the terrorist causes death and misery

Coming back from this meeting, on March 19th, two Coloureds answering to the description of Piliso and Esack were stopped by a UDR patrol near Poyntzpass, South Down. They were travelling on United Nations travel documents. With them in the car was South Down deputy IRA "commander" Colm McGorrigan of Mourne Park, Castlewellan and a local lesser IRA light, one McCrickard.

Of course the UDR were not allowed to do anything but let these two local vermin go, with their exotic friends.

Some months later, on 16th August, 1988, the RUC saw the same two Coloureds, thought to be Piliso and Esack, in Ulster in a blue Austin Metro, registration number JJI 849, being driven by the car's owner, Lisburn IRA man Lewis Stevenson. With them in the car was Sean murdering British men, women and children all over this country and the Continent?

Answer: throw Wembley Stadium and the BBC open to convicted ANC terrorist Nelson Mandela whilst grovelling for our Prime Minister to be permitted an audience with the ANC terror boss, at which perhaps Nelson will be tactful enough not to invite along his Provo friends.

UNSWERVING

Meanwhile, our soldiers and policemen who know all of this is going on are explicitly forbidden to do anything about it. All they can do (thanks, lads!) is leak what they know to the NF.

For our security forces know that, unlike Thatcher's Tories,

The Man Who Betrayed Ulster

THE MAN whose weakness, liberalism and softness on IRA subversion led to twenty years of Republican terror in Ulster and across the rest of Britain, and killed over 2,000 people, Captain Terence O'Neill, died on June 13th, aged 75.

As Prime Minister of Northern Ireland from 1963 to 1970, O'Neill converted a peaceful and prosperous British Province, in which the IRA had been smashed seemingly for good, into the blood-bestrewn battleground it has been ever since. O'Neill achieved this by replacing the uncompromising Loyalism of his predecessors in Stormont with a wet, sickly liberalism in the face of the Fenian foe, a weakness that foe was quick to seize upon.

* WEAK: Terence O'Neill

Hardly had he intrigued himself into office by playing on the reactionary social prejudices of the previous Ulster Premier, Lord Brookeborough (who, to his credit, later disowned him), than O'Neill was toadying to the leaders of the Dublin rebel regime, inviting Irish Prime Minister Lemass and his successor Jack Lynch (later to preside over a Cabinet of IRA gunrunners like current Dublin boss Charles Haughey) to wine and dine in Belfast. Then, confronted with the Communist and IRA-front "Civil Rights Association", openly modelled on the anti-White Black Marxist body of the same name in the American South - O'Neill again chose to grovel rather than fight.

Instead of taking the firm action against these subversive scum demanded by Loyalists such as Home Affairs Minister Bill Craig - and taken on their own initiative by ordinary Ulster folk at the heroic Battle of Burntollet Bridge in January 1969 - O'Neill fired Craig and started giving in to the IRA/CRA demands. Demands to allow people who hate our country and all it stands for to take over British city councils, enjoy British council houses and take British jobs, instead of going back to the Irish Republic where they belong.

O'Neill himself did all right. He retired to a peerage, a mansion in the safety of the Hampshire countryside and a directorship of international financiers Warburgs. Meanwhile the ordinary Ulster folk he despised, betrayed and abandoned were left to die in the mess he had made. They will not miss him now . . .

UNITED IN TERROR: Mandela, Adams & Gaddafi!

However, by February 1988, the ANC was in Ulster. A joint IRA/ANC working party met at 37, Thomas Street, Armagh, home of one of the IRA's representatives on this dubious body, Ciaran O'Maolain. The other IRA representatives were Joe Austin from Belfast and Bernadette Valleley. Representing the ANC in Armagh were Mwzai Piliso, then head of the ANC "Security Section" and SWAPO Politburo member Moses Garoeb (SWAPO is now in power in "Namibia") together with Farid Esack of the ANC's "United Democratic Front".

Shortly after this meeting with the Provos on 18th March, 1988, Piliso and Esack of the ANC, together with Kadar Asmal of the Irish AAM (who is rumoured to have dropped in to the Armagh IRA meeting also), met three Irish MP's - former top IRA terrorist Tomas MacGiolla, Tom Kitt and Ruairi Quinn - and an Irish Senator, Katherine Bulbulia.

The next day the IRA's Piliso and Esack, and the Anti-Apartheid Movement's Asmal, were seen in Ulster with top Provo terrorists Martin McGuinness and Sean Flynn. The RUC officers who discovered this were ordered from on high not to pursue enquiries into IRA/ANC links, so they told the NF instead!

O'Rourke of Site 44, Beach Grove, Rostrevor, Co. Down, a leading terrorist in South Down IRA, thought to be responsible for the Narrow Water bombing but, like most top IRA men, not allowed to be arrested by the security forces.

Meanwhile rumours of all this had led the ANC to admit openly, in the Observer, July 17th, 1988, that "The African National Congress yesterday said it would be willing to accept funds from the IRA".

What has the Government done now it is clear the ANC is and has for years been the close ally of the IRA who are the National Front is unswerving in its opposition to the IRA murder gang and its ANC Black Communist friends. Unlike Tory Ministers, we wouldn't tell the IRA they couldn't lose, or grovel and crawl to its dusky-hued brothers in blood.

Instead we'd tell our troops and policemen to make even better use of the information they keep sending to The FLAG and go in and wipe out the IRA once and for all. And if a few odd African murderers got wiped out in the process, well and good. If they kill together, they can die together . . .

* ANOTHER LINK IN THE CHAIN: Labour MP Ken Livingstone acts as a go-between between Gerry Adams and the Labour leadership. Both the IRA and the Labour Party are united in destroying Ulster.

THE WHITE RACE

An Endangered Species

THE WHITE Race is dying out. All across Europe the White population is growing older as fewer and fewer children are born.

As non-White populations soar out of control, the number of White people in the world is steadily falling. If current trends continue, our Race is heading the way of the dodo and the dinosaur, toward extinction.

That is the nightmare prospect looming out of the hard statistics of Europe's population. Statistics which are worrying not only for those concerned for the future of our Race but also industrialists and generals concerned at a shortage of young recruits in the coming years.

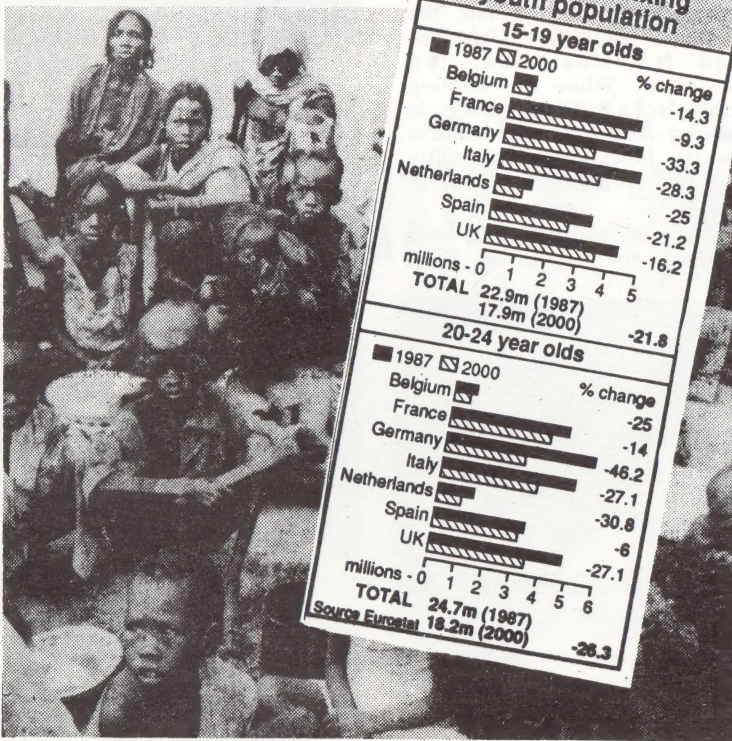

Thanks to the easy availability of contraception and abortion, together with the decline in the family and soaring divorce rates, the White birthrate has plummeted since the early 1960's. The result is a growing shortage of young people and an ageing population.

According to the Government's Office of Population, Censuses and Surveys, between 1981 and 1988 the number of old age pensioners rose 4% to 9,300,000 while in the same period the number of children under 15 fell by 7.5%. Things will get worse. Between 1987 and 2000 the number of British 20-24 year-olds will fall by 27.1%, over a quarter.

DECLINE

By the mid-1990's, the number of Britons aged 16-19 will have plunged from 3.7 million in the early 1980's to 2.6 million. In the overall 15-29 age range, there will be three million fewer young Britons in 2001 than there were in 1986. With each White British couple only having an average 1.7 children, this decline seems set to go on.

Industrialists are worrying more and more about this "demographic time bomb" which in the years to come will lead to a general shortage of young people coming onto the labour market. Meanwhile the Army commissioned a report, MARILYN (Manning And Recruitment in the Lean Years of the Nineties) on the problem. Two-thirds of all girls with five decent GCSE's will have to go into nursing to cope with the shortfall of young women. And over the next ten years they will have another half million old folk over 85 to look after - 100,000 of them suffering from senile dementia.

* By 2025 there will be more Blacks in Africa than people in Europe!

More generally, by 2025, in an ageing Britain, there will be not 2.5 wage-earners per old age pensioner as there are now, but only 1.6 - who presumably will have to pay more tax and national insurance to keep them.

The problem isn't just one for Britain. Between 1987 and 2000, the number of 20-24 year olds will fall by 27.5%, the same as in Britain, in Italy, by 30.8% in Holland, and by almost half, 46.2% in Germany. Throughout the EEC, there will be 22%, five million, fewer teenagers by the year 2000.

In France the percentage of pensioners will rise from 19% to 24% by 2000. In Italy, where there will be a third fewer 15-19 year olds in ten years, the Bank of Italy estimates that by 2010 those in work will have to pay 57% of their income to finance pensions for the far bigger proportion of over-65's in the population. The population of the EEC as a whole will fall from 320 million today to 290 million by 2040.

Germany, with only 1.3 children per couple, will almost halve its population each generation, making worries about a reunified Vaterland rather redundant in the long run.

Outside Western Europe, the White Race is in no better state. In America, the number of 18-24 year olds fell by 14% between 1980 and 1990. In the Soviet Union, the Government is seriously worried by the low White birthrate. Between 1979 and today the proportion of non-Whites in the USSR has doubled from 18% to 37%. By the middle of the next century, Whites will be in the minority in both America and Russia, as they will here by 2068.

Meanwhile, as United Nations figures show, the World's non-White population is skyrocketing. Over 90% of the projected growth in world population in the coming decades will be in the Third World. In many Black African countries, not only is the population growing rapidly, but the rate of growth is itself increasing.

FEWER & FEWER

By 2025 there will be more Blacks in Africa than there are people in all of Europe, North America and South America put together. According to official UN figures, of every 10,000 babies born in the next 20 years, 9,950 will be born in the Third World - and so will be Black or Brown.

So the prospect is grim. Every year, every month, every day there are fewer and fewer White people in the World, and more and more non-Whites. If this goes on, as it is going on, the end is certain. The White Race, and the British and every other White nation and people, will become extinct forever.

In a few hundred years, hair the shade of sunlight and eyes the hue of the sky in Summer will be one with the sabre-toothed tiger and the mammoth. Our story and our glory, will be over. For ever. Only an all-out commitment to racial survival on the part of our Governments, which in Britain means the National Front, can save us now. As much as the whale and the panda, we are an endangered species. Unlike the whale and the panda, or the dodo and the dinosaur, we can act to save ourselves. As we must. For soon it will be too late.

Election Fever

ELECTION FEVER is coursing through the veins of the National Front's branches as the Party prepares for its biggest election effort in seven years.

The decision by the National Directorate of the National Front to fight a minimum of 60 seats at the General Election has given the NF a purpose, a precise goal to aim for over the next 12 to 18 months.

Now that is not to say that the National Front has not had a purpose for the last seven years. During those years NF members have been fighting for their very existence, battling against suppression of free speech on the outside and to rid the Party of cranks and loonies on the inside.

To both ends the National Front been successful. Our rallies in Bromley, Wigan and Newcastle this year have driven a bus through the unofficial reporting restrictions placed on us by our opponents as front page after front page in local newspapers have supported the NF's right to free speech. Cranks and loonies have firmly been given the boot by the vast majority of NF members with Nazi elements which tried to tack themselves on to the Party in the early eighties leaving for homes where they will be welcomed.

It's not a flabby, inexperienced NF that prepares for the General Election but a battle-hardened, well organised Party that is eager for success.

The Way He Tells Them

SO LENNIE Henry tells his audience that he has suffered a racial attack at the hands of the National Front with someone daubing the letters NF in excrement on his front door.

It's the sort of joke one would expect from Lennie. You see today there are very few real racial attacks in Britain apart from those committed by Black Muggers on White women and OAPs in Britain's inner-city areas. There are lots of well publicised reports of racial attacks but little of the actual commodity.

These reports of alleged racial attacks by NF supporters serve no purpose but to discredit our Party. Those in sympathy with the aims of the NF know this. The only end product of a racial attack is to draw attention and give sympathy to the victim.

While the little boy cried "Wolf" to gain himself attention, methinks the Black comedian cries "Racial Attack".

Faith in us

IT IS fitting that on the 300th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne our friends in Ulster should reach a watershed in the way they view the National Front.

During its 23 years in existence the National Front has stood solidly by the side of Ulster Loyalism. Opposing the IRA on the mainland whenever they raise their ugly head and regularly travelling to the Province to support Loyalist causes.

Our support has not always been welcomed by those who wield political power in Unionist circles but as true patriots we have not wavered from our beliefs.

In this issue of The FLAG you will see a wealth of reports on Ulster politics. Many are exclusive stories provided for us by people who have at last accepted the National Front as a true ally.

Mainstream politicians and senior figures in the Ulster establishment have decided to acknowledge and support the efforts of the National Front by introducing a new era of co-operation between Ulster and the Front.

We are very proud to have their support and confidence and re-affirm our commitment to 'Keep Ulster British'.

Victory For Free Speech in Newcastle

THREE HUNDRED Labour Party thugs massed outside Newcastle railway station to try to prevent the National Front directing people to our rally on Sunday 17th June. Four NF members arrived from Durham and had to force their way through this rabble, others recognised Newcastle NF Organiser, John Harwood and were directed to the meeting room.

Members from the surrounding areas, and from Yorkshire met

After a brief discussion with the local police we were told that our members had already left the Defence Fund, John Hill the National Activities Organiser and NF Chairman, Ian Anderson. While the meeting took place a small group of Reds seemed to accidentally stumble on the hotel and were swiftly escorted from the area by NF stewards.

The rally had originally been booked for Newcastle Civic area for the indoor rally and our convoy of vehicles made its way to the Swallow Hotel, Gateshead after 'detering' one red van from following us.

In the very comfortable 'Washington Suite' nearly 100 NF members and supporters gathered to hear John Harwood, the Newcastle Organiser, who spoke of the threatened arrival of 250,000 immigrants from Hong Kong and also of the progress of Newcastle National Front.

Other speakers included Norman Tomkinson, who made an appeal for help for the Patriots Centre, but the Labour Council led by Jeremy Beecham denied the NF our rights to freedom of speech and assembly and cancelled the booking. The circumvention of this 'Ban' gained the NF considerable press coverage including a television interview for John Harwood.

Jeremy Beecham also went on television to attack the National Front and he said that the aim of the NF in holding this event was to gain publicity for our views - which his ban kindly provided for us!

Phoney Baloney

YOU WILL recall that Madam Thatcher is always portrayed as a woman of iron will and ramrod principles. You will remember also that she has consistently declared herself to be in favour of the return of capital punishment, only to be frustrated by all those bleeding hearts in Parliament who thwart her at every turn.

To be sure, she has always voted in favour whenever the issue has been raised, but that is after it is obvious that the proposal will be defeated on a free vote; when M.P.'s vote according to the dictates of their consciences, if any.

You will recall, also, that she has declared total war on drug traffickers, announcing unequivocally, her steely determination to smash their evil trade by any and every means. As an earnest of her iron resolve, she has assigned part of our minuscule navy to the ludicrous task of patrolling the coast of S.America where, to date, all they have caught are certain unmentionable diseases.

By golly, what a woman. Sort of a cross, really, between Nemesis and the grim reaper.

Or is she?

For if the proof of the pudding is in the eating, the proof of the phoney is in the waffling.

The Malaysian Government, which really is determined to stop drug trafficking, recently executed eight Hong Kong Chinese who were caught dealing in the filthy business. They did so despite an impertinent intervention in their internal affairs by none other than Madam Thatcher herself. She, who is so much in favour of capital punishment and so much against drug trafficking, pleaded for clemency for the wretched criminals; a plea that was contemptuously rejected. Thus, the engine of our rusty old battle wagon blew a gasket on two cylinders simultaneously. They're making iron ladies out of very shoddy material these days.

Meanwhile, back at the Westminster loony bin, George Foulkes, Labour's foreign affairs spokesman, demanded trade sanctions against Malaysia as a reprisal for the execution of eight aliens. Since Labour has already demanded sanctions against S.Africa and Iraq and many other nations too numerous to mention, one wonders how they are going to honour their pledge to revitalise British industry when it will be debarred from trading with anyone.

Since Madam Thatcher is a phoney and Labour is full of baloney, what have we got at Westminster? You've guessed it - a load of old phoney baloney.

Transmogrified

I SEE THAT a grandly-named Parliamentary Select Committee has issued a report that is highly critical of the Home Office for failing to process sufficiently speedily the hordes of aliens who aim to become instant British citizens. I have not been able to ascertain in what particular this "select" committee, headed by the appalling Sir George Wheeler, is select. I must say that they seem like a real gaggle of riff-raff to me. Possibly they are less "select" than selected - for their predisposition to betray the nation, for instance.

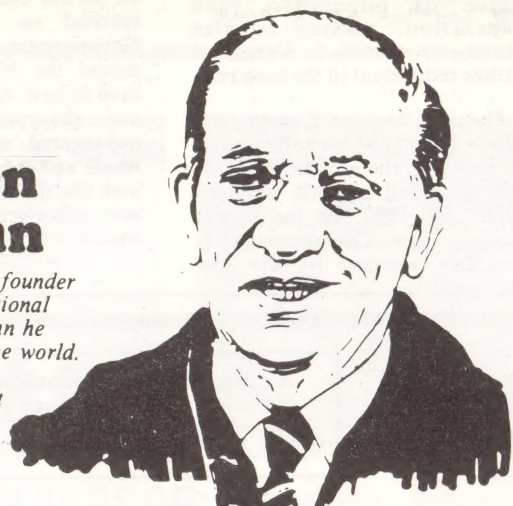

There is, of course, a perfectly good reason why people of foreign birth but of our race might be granted British citizenship if they were prepared to renounce all other allegiance. Such people, however, are not the concern of the "select". Indeed one such select person, sooty Keith Vaz M.P., a naturalised British object if ever there was one, has suggested that the tardiness of the Home Office is really a form of racial discrimination. Ah, if it only were.

Indeed this whole business of naturalisation is a hoot since it proclaims people to be something they clearly are not. It is, in truth, a process of unnaturalisation.

Just as the old time alchemists believed, in their ignorance, that they could transform base metals into gold, so present day ignoramuses, such as those employed on "Select

The Ted Budden Column

Ted Budden was a founder member of the National Front. In his column he gives his view of the world. His comments and observations do not necessarily reflect National Front policy.

Committees", believe that they can turn chalk into cheese or, more to the point, curry infested Asians into pukka Britons - all with the stroke of a pen.

Not that, in the long run, it will make any difference. To a future National Front government, such naturalisation certificates will be mere scraps of paper.

After all, the Government could issue certificates to all the dim-witted degenerates who claim to be our representatives, declaring them to be intelligent, honourable people - but nobody would believe them.

Pipsqueak

I SEE THAT Colin Moynihan, our Minister for Sport and internationally famed hysteric, has been at it again. Although it is generally accepted to be the duty of any government to protect its citizens abroad, this piffing pipsqueak has been jetting around the Mediterranean urging lesser breeds to beat Britons to a pulp.

Not that they need much encouragement as events have proved. A slight scuffle between a small group of England supporters and eight times their number of Sardinian yobs resulted in wholesale arrests and the instant approval of the pipsqueak. The police alleged than ten Englishmen had drunk 200 litres of beer between them - a mere 35 pints each. It is incredible that they could even stand up, let alone fight, after such a quantity.

Perhaps they should have gratified their fighting instincts by punching the head of the barman who sold them such a feeble brew. Paying good money for such gutwash and then being savaged by a shoal of sardines is surely more than any Englishman could be expected to stand.

Shortly afterwards, no doubt inflamed by the microbic Moynihan's enthusiasm, the police teagassed and baton charged English supporters on their way to a match, apparently for no other reason than that there were rather a lot of them. This roused Moynihan to a positive frenzy of approbation. Before even ascertaining the facts he praised the police for their "tough action". Why, dammit, he couldn't have been more pleased if someone had been killed. It is noticeable that whereas, in the past, every third word he uttered was "tough" it is now every second one. The disease is spreading.

Tough pipsqueak then jetted off to Bologna, where England's next match was played, to warn the authorities of impending Armageddon and to demand that the police "get tough" with English fans. Having been assured that an Englishman is fair game for anyone, the spaghetti benders needed no second invitation. In Rimini 250

English fans were beaten up, arrested, and deported, in most cases simply for being in the vicinity.

Having given the Rimini police the Moynihan Award for toughness, mighty pipsqueak asserted that any innocent Englishman had only himself to blame for not running away quickly enough.

So there you have it. It is the role of an Englishman to keep his tongue between his teeth; obey orders, no matter how unreasonable, and run away when threatened.

More Glory

I SEE THAT what we are pleased to call Western Democracy, having swept over most of Eastern Europe, has inundated Czechoslovakia to such a degree that the place is positively silted up with it.

Although it probably doesn't help to have an avant garde playwright as president, it probably isn't his fault that the onset of "Western democracy" has been cataclysmic for the lucky recipients. It has been reported that crime in newly free Czechoslovakia has increased by sixty percent in a mere six months and that violent crime has doubled. The once sedate streets of Prague now echo to the clamour of prostitutes, male and female, who have hot-footed in to hawk their wares in the wonderful new climate of freedom.

In truth, what Eastern Europe is being urged to embrace is not democracy but the laissez faire free market economy that is the enemy of true democracy and national culture. Freedom of action - the freedom to exploit, corrupt, and cheat one's fellow citizens is, in fact, the very antithesis of democracy and, indeed, of civilisation.

Freedom of speech and freedom of advocacy; these are the very things that are ruthlessly suppressed and silenced when they threaten to engender a climate that is unhelpful to the free market. Advocacy of the survival of race and nation is, of course, anathema to all "democratic" free marketeers.

Douglas Hurd, our Foreign Secretary (until someone else wants the job, of course) was in Berlin recently attending the ceremony of demolishing Checkpoint Charlie. There he made a speech extolling the virtues of democracy and its attendant right of freedom of movement.

He was, of course, there as the representative of our our Tory Government - the Tory Government that, during the miners' strike, threatened people with arrest if they dared to cross the borders of their county; that has since regularly banned NF marches and rallies and physically prevented our members from attending them. The cold war is not yet over - it is still being waged against democracy by those who style themselves democrats.

The Whole World Over

HAVE YOU noticed that we're being brainwashed? If you haven't, you either need glasses or you haven't got a television set.

For if there's an item on TV news about hospitals, it will be illustrated with a picture of Black hospital staff; if about supermarkets, with a picture of Black check-out operators; if about science, with Black laboratory staff; if about schools, with Black schoolchildren although the way things are in this country might make that unavoidable.

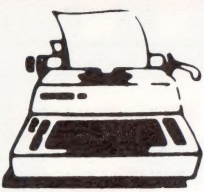

This process is called "imprinting"; a system of psychological manipulation whereby constant repetition conditions the mind into acceptance through familiarity.

In the days of our innocence it used to be said that the camera couldn't lie. We have since learned to our cost that with unscrupulous operators to direct its lens and edit its product it has become the greatest liar since Ananias; the insidious subversive in our living rooms.

And it's the same the whole world over. How can it be that all the staff of all the TV networks in every country of the "free" world are of one mind - "liberal" clones?

A vast conspiracy perhaps? But no, that's ridiculous. Isn't it?

Wrong Impression

IN YOUR report about the counter-demonstration against the IRA march in Birmingham you say "It took three rows of Police to hold us back". Since my picture is featured with this report, I would like to point out respectfully that I myself and many of my Birmingham comrades went there to protest against this pitiful assortment of misguided fools and not, as it sounds, to provoke disorder.

May I remind you that over the last few years Nationalists have shown great restraint and self discipline in the face of almost unbearable provocation from these supporters of the atrocities of the IRA.

Unloved & Unwashed

WHAT A pleasant surprise to read about that splendid New Briton, Dr. Kalim Saddiqi, and his latest contribution towards multi-racial harmony.

Together with a fanatical mob of his bearded cronies he has produced a manifesto which is to be debated at the Muslim Institute's Conference in July.

This 40-page opus calls on all Muslims to reject Britain's 'assimilation and integration' policies. It is full of the usual politico-religious waffle about Muslims, who 'despite being a minority (in Britain) can define and pursue goals compatible with the world community of Muslims, of which they are an integral part'.

Let us hope the Conference approves this arrogant rubbish unanimously. That should be a hefty smack in the eye of our resident idiots who support and promote the poisonous philosophy of integration - and a revelation to the silent, acquiescent majority of tolerant people who can't recognise the viper in their midst when they see it.

'In Britain' says this manifesto, with mind-bending disregard for accuracy, 'Muslims are being asked to accept subservience and the total disintegration of their identity, culture and religion as the only options open to them'.

Well, we've got news for you, Saddiqi, old buddy. There's another option you haven't considered. You can get the hell out of Britain and take the rest of your unwanted, unloved people with you!

Action Man to Blame

WHAT A pathetic publicity stunt by TV stars and politicians to draw attention to the homeless.

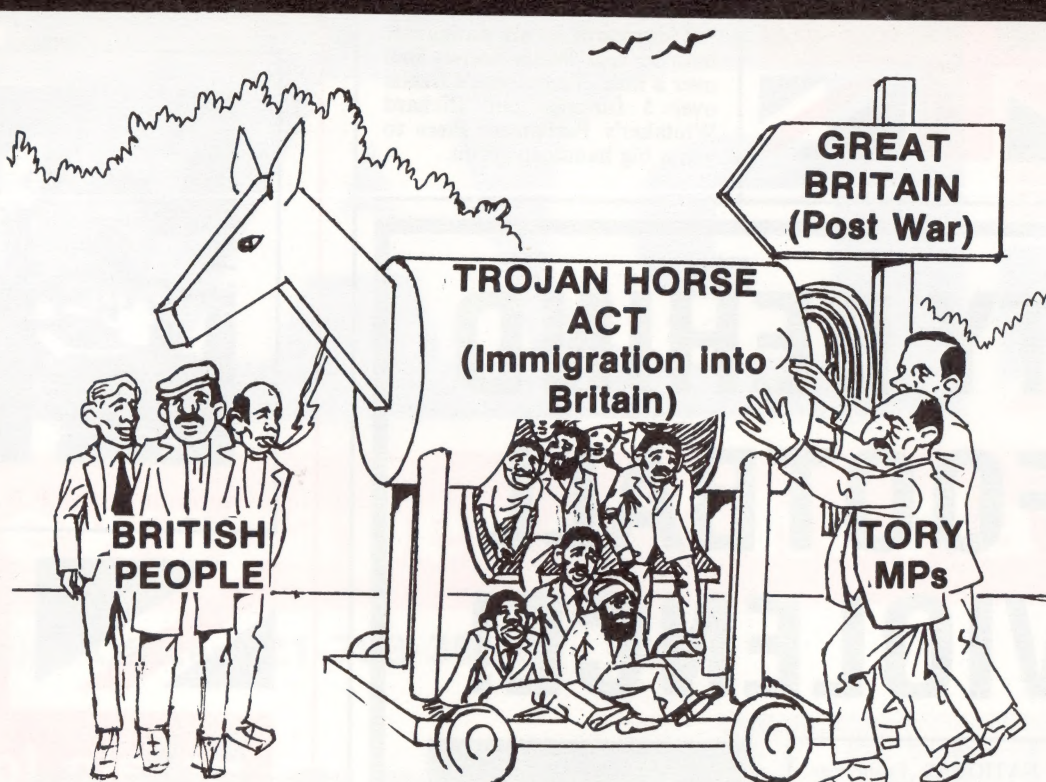

It was bad enough to watch Elspeth Howe, but to see that novice politician Paddy Ashdown lying in his designer cardboard box was the pits.

This so-called action man is one of the politicians who are to blame for Britain's homeless. This same man wants five million Chinese from Hong Kong to live here! How stupid can you get? There is one reason only for Britain's homeless and that reason is immigration.

Why on earth should English people be without homes, when millions of houses, both private and council are occupied by immigrants from around. No political party ever speaks out against this scandal except, thank God, the National Front.

LETTER TO THE NATIONAL FRONT CHAIRMAN

Thoughts on the Wigan Rally

I WRITE this letter a little late but I hope it won't detract from the sincerity. I must say that it was a pleasure to meet you.

The transport to the meeting was different, I have never been in a police vehicle before, very educational.

During the meeting I felt it would be of benefit to all if one side of the room was put aside for non-smokers, or possibly if there had been a ban on smoking.

Your opening and closing speeches, Peter Cox's chairmanship, the speeches from John Hill, Martin Wingfield and Steve Brady were all good and pleasant to listen to. I felt Steve Brady's speech was very much geared to the converted. One of the speeches, preferably the first one, should be an introductory type speech encompassing several of our policies, including a relatively minor one, to display a depth of our thought. It would also display that we are not a one policy party.

Drinks during the meeting was all right, however leaving to get a refill during a speech was, I thought, a little distracting. If I was speaking I would find it so.

When it was mentioned that 'the Reds' had found our location and were outside, the appearance of a few who wanted to 'sort them out' was a little perturbing. After all why should we bite the bait and sink to their level? That would be a 'victory' for them. I was pleased that your swift instructions to resist were obeyed, but surely your instructions should not have been necessary. I am sure non-members present i.e. unconverted to our cause, may have been put off by this threat of an incident.

The singing of the hymn 'Jerusalem' and the National Anthem was good and positive to our cause and anyone listening could ONLY have thought of us in a positive manner. The chant afterwards was certainly a good morale booster but I would not have liked to be next door having a meal!

I believe that in your opening speech you should identify the members who have not been to a meeting before and also the non-members. An official or officials should then be delegated to meet these people after the meeting as a group or individually, make them feel welcome (and their ideas too!) - because they ARE. Talk and listen to them. They may have praise, constructive criticism and may not be looking through rose-tinted glasses, we can learn from them through their views and their comments. Their views are welcome and could possibly improve the next meeting if they are adopted/adapted.

I say this because I went to the meeting with a friend, Steve Brady came to talk to me afterwards and I was surprised and pleased that he should choose to talk to me. No-one spoke to my friend (who is a non-member), had she been approached it may have cleared up some doubts/thoughts that she may have had and that may have turned her into a member. I don't force my politics on her but I do state the NF position where possible. I would rather let her volunteer her willingness to join, or anyone else for that matter.

Whilst there I met Alastair Thomson from Nelson, he was sat next to you in the back of the police van. I believe he introduced himself to Tina Wingfield, so he was not 'alone'. A two minute talk may sway 'possibles' into 'actuals'.

Alastair Thomson kindly drove my friend and I home after the meeting and political discussion was well to the fore. Alastair has since contacted me reference the setting up of a Pendle or East Lancashire branch and I have indicated my interest.

Finally I would like to say thank you to John Hamilton and Dave Sudworth for the superb arrangements on the day, I appreciated the effort that they put in to make the meeting, what I believe to be, a great success.

Dangerous Rubbish

NEIL McBAIN's letter about the anti-Jewish views expressed by Ted Budden in 'The Masters Now' was very timely. However The FLAG goes further than this in printing a cartoon caption competition positively begging for anti-Jewish captions to be sent in.

Time and time again the National Front stresses that it is not anti-Jewish and has no interest in promoting the 'debate' about Nazi War Crimes - yet time and time again Party publications print stuff which can only be seen as anti-Jewish.

Such rubbish defeats every effort we make elsewhere to present the National Front in a good light.

Grow Up

IN SO many ways The FLAG is a great credit to the National Front and the cause of British Nationalism, yet in almost every issue there are silly childish digs at either coloured immigrants or Jews that lets the paper and the National Front down.

99% of June's issue was excellent. Relevant, interesting and topical political issues were covered and the Nationalist viewpoint put forward. Yet the crude and ill-advised comments made about grave desecration and the kindergarten cartoon competition spoils the whole paper and leaves an unpleasant taste in the mouth.

That sort childish ridicule was prevalent in Nationalist movements of the sixties who were treated by the public as cranks and loonies. Don't take the NF back to the dark days, look to the future and promote the NF in the relevant politics of today and don't spoil what is an excellent newspaper by unsavoury jibes.

THE NEWCASTLE Branch is hoping to produce a video compilation of the NF from its early years to the present day. I am looking for ANY video clips (VHS).

Whether it's a one minute news clip, documentary or home videos of NF activities. All contributions used will get a mention on the sleeve notes.

Please send the tapes to me together with your name and address and the tapes will be returned when they have been duplicated. The picture and sound quality need not be 100% as I can rectify this.

It is hoped that the video will increase peoples' awareness and promote a positive image of the National Front.

RACING TIPS

WE JUST got out of trouble on the month with Phanan obliging at 9-2.

This month we are putting our faith in Jack Watts Society Ball over a mile, Tom Jones's Kadim over 5 furlongs and Richard Whitaker's Parliament Piece to win a big handicap sprint.

LABOUR PARTY BEHIND FOOTBALL VIOLENCE!

CHRIS WRIGHT: Labour Party candidate

THE NATIONAL Front was thanked by Judge Popplewell for assisting in the Government inquiry into soccer violence. The Labour Party refused to help the enquiry - now we know the reason why!

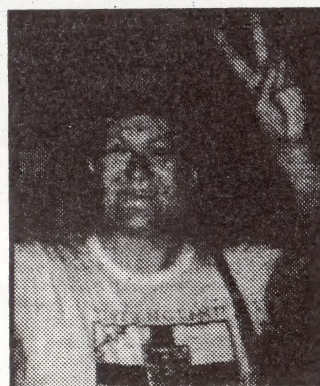

IN LAST month's issue of 'The FLAG' we exposed Dennis Howell MP as a liar after he had made ridiculous accusations against the National Front concerning football hooliganism.

The reason for Howell's lies now appear obvious with the exposure in the national media of the real people being soccer violence - The Labour Party.

Whereas there has never ever been a shred of evidence linking the NF with soccer violence there is now evidence to link the Labour Party with it. A Labour Party candidate and leading Labour Party activist is a ringleader in organising soccer violence.

Chris Wright, who lead the Cagliari march by English fans that ended in violence has twice been a Labour candidate in elections.

In 1987 he spoke at 868

CHRIS WRIGHT: Soccer Thug

Labour branch meetings and trade unions meetings and this year has already addressed 170 Labour meetings in the run up to the General Election.

While Neil Kinnock might try to distance himself from soccer violence, through people like Chris Wright the Labour Party is up to its neck in it.

Disorder on the streets whether it is through soccer violence or poll tax demonstrations threatens the stability of the nation, and Labour Party activists never miss those opportunities for confrontation.

League Must Stand Firm on Swindon Decision

SWINDON TOWN ARE cheats. For five years they have gained an unfair advantage over other football clubs by paying their players illegal inducements, in some cases totalling as much as £25,000.

There is no question about the club's guilt. They have admitted to breaking 35 Football League regulations and offered incriminating evidence on a 36th. The League have another 20 charges ready to be filed against individuals associated with club.

From their playing days in the Fourth Division in 1984, Swindon Town have been cheating. Their success has been achieved because they were able to attract players to the club by offering under-the-table inducements.

The Football League is quite right to demote Swindon Town - only the Wiltshire Club should have been demoted to where they started their cheating - the Fourth Division.

The controversy over the Football League's decision is not concerning the punishment to Swindon Town, but their interpretation of the readjustments necessary because of the club's demotion. While it is right that Sunderland should be promoted in their place because

OF COURSE IT'S SAD: Swindon fans, just as the families of criminals suffer when they are sent to prison, supporters have to pay because their club cheated they were effected directly by Swindon's cheating, it is ludicrous that Tranmere from the Third Division be promoted in Swindon's place.

Tranmere were not effected by Swindon's cheating - Bournemouth, relegated from Division 2 were. It's only right that Bournemouth should stay in the Second Division and replace the club who cheated against them.

Pressure is mounting from all quarters over the League's decision. The bleeding hearts brigade are complaining against the severity of the punishment and the fact that it is the supporters who suffer.

The League must stand firm. The punishment does fit the crime. Of course it is upsetting for Swindon Town supporters, but just as the families of criminals suffer when they are sent to prison, the fans will have to pay because the club they chose to support has cheated!

Money Can't Buy Everything

THE NATIONAL Front has continually argued that Football Clubs should represent their town in more than just name only. Teams should be selected from people of that town and the club should be a real part of the community.

Too often it is the case that teams are just bought. The board with the biggest bank balance wins the prizes because they buy success. So it's nice when the holders of the fatest wallet come unstuck.

Colne Dynamos won the HFS Loans League by a margin of twenty points. Their team was the only one in the league made up of full-time professionals. So much money was spent on buying players from other clubs that nothing was invested in the club's ground, a tiny stadium with a capacity of 2,000.

Colne Dynamos, this season were expecting to be promoted to the Conference League but they have been turned down because their ground is not up to standard.

So all the money wasted on securing players services has gone down the drain. It's reassuring to know that money can't buy everything.
